

TURNED HER OUT OF HOME

Mrs. Rock Charges Her Husband With This.

SHE HAD HIM ARRESTED

A Mad Dog Creates Great Excitement in Fulton and Blies People—Mann Bill and Henrico County Liquor Licenses.

As the result of a family disturbance, John Rock, a well known white man, of Henrico county, has been locked up in jail, charged with unlawful conduct toward his wife.

It was impossible yesterday to get the details of the affair. Rock was seen, but declined to discuss the matter. The warrant was sworn out against him by Mrs. Rock herself. She alleges that her husband unlawfully assaulted and beat her, and then put her out of the house. She further charges that he threatened her if she attempted to come back home. The case was called yesterday before Magistrate V. S. Floyd, Sr., and was continued until the 10th of April.

Great excitement prevailed in Fulton for a short while yesterday afternoon, incident to the appearance upon the scene of a dog, which had all the appearance of being mad.

Deputy Sheriff Voelger was passing through Fulton yesterday afternoon, and had just gotten beyond the brick-yard, when several negroes, in great terror and confusion, rushed out and begged him to shoot a certain black, shaggy dog that was stalking about in the neighborhood. They were afraid to do it themselves, because the owner—a negro woman—threatened to have them arrested if they did. They brought Mr. Voelger about six shaggy dogs, and he finally got near the brute and killed it. The dog had been driven from under a house, and when he appeared in broad daylight negroes scampered in all directions, climbed fences and everything else that came convenient to hand.

It was reported last night that several persons, including two or three children, were bitten by the dog. The excitement in Fulton for a time, it is said, was something intense.

Whether or not the Mann bill, passed yesterday by both houses of the State Legislature, will be signed by the Governor in time for it to affect the granting of liquor licenses in certain of the country districts of Henrico county is a question now commanding some attention. In view of the routine through which the bill has to pass, before it reaches the Executive—enrollment and on which will consume some eight or ten days—it is believed that it will hardly get through in time to make itself felt in the county at this time.

Application for licenses will be considered by the County Court on the 20th of the present month. A large number of notices have been posted at the court-house. There is prospect of two or three contests again this year.

The Board of Supervisors met a few days ago and transacted a mass of routine business. To the great joy of certain of the overseers of the poor, it decided to continue appropriations to several destitute families in Henrico who are not in the poor-house.

The board received a long communication from the Board of Fire Commissioners of Richmond, but took no action in the matter. The bill for expenses in the Fairmount fire was laid over until next month.

Ben White, alias Washington Cary, colored, has been arrested, charged with assaulting Alton Swann, white.

A marriage license was issued yesterday in the clerk's office to W. W. Thomas and Alice V. Duke, both of Henrico.

REPORTER TRIED TO TRACK PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press.) CINCINNATI, MONT., April 9.—The President made an early start from his headquarters this morning for an extended trip through the reservations. There are many mountain lions in the park and as the authorities are making an effort to exterminate them, it is possible that the President may get a few shots at them.

Notwithstanding the fact that no newspaper men would be allowed in the park while the President was there, one enterprising reporter tried to force his way in yesterday. He rode a horse and had a dog with him. The man was arrested before he had proceeded far and the dog shot. Later, the reporter was released.

SAYS THERE ARE OTHERS

Rectors Who Have Summed Up Their Flock.

ARE WHITE MINISTERS. TOO

Bishop Says the Rev. Duty Is Not the Only One Who Has Kept a Register—Won't Say Where the Others Are Located.

According to the bishop of the Diocese of Virginia, the Rev. Maximo F. Duty, of St. Philip's Colored Episcopal Church of this city, is not the only rector within those parts who has found it convenient to keep a register of his congregation, in which he sums up his flock according to the estimation in which he holds them.

It will be recalled that very recently the Rev. Duty became suddenly immersed in very hot water, incident to the unexpected discovery by members of his church of the aforesaid register. In it were the names of his people and against each name was inscribed a word which briefly told what the rector thought of the bearers of these names. The words were "good," "bad," "indifferent," "ignorant," and so on. There was at once an uproar and there was some talk of a forthcoming resignation.

Wednesday night last Bishop Robert A. Gibson visited the church and held a service. He confirmed a class of six, and there was at this particular time no evidence of a disturbance. Things moved smoothly and well.

But from what can be ascertained the free are still smoldering. The Bishop was asked yesterday about the matter and he said that there was still some little division among the congregation, but he had hopes that things would work out all right in the end.

It is believed by some that the trouble portends the resignation of the Rev. Duty, and it has been reported that he has gone so far as to consult with the Bishop as to the advisability of taking this step. Bishop Gibson was asked about this matter also yesterday, but he evidently did not desire to go into any great detail. He said rectors often consulted with him about the advisability of staying at a certain field. They did this frequently whether there was any trouble in the congregation or not. And then the Bishop made a most interesting statement.

VALUABLE PORTRAITS

The Texas Room Receives Those of General Reagan and Colonel Terry. Mrs. Canzane McLeod, the vice-regent of the Texas room at the Confederate Museum, reports the arrival of two highly valuable portraits, one of General John H. Reagan, the only surviving member of President Davis' Cabinet, and the other of Colonel B. F. Terry, an officer in the famous Texas Rangers.

The former is a son of Mrs. George W. Littlejohn, of Austin, Texas, and the latter has been sent from the Terry Rangers' Association.

General Reagan's portrait will be hung in the South South room among the group around President Davis, where it rightfully belongs. That of Colonel Terry will add another to the list of heroes in the Texas room.

The Confederate Memorial Literary Society desires to express through the columns of The Times-Dispatch their sincere appreciation of Mrs. Littlejohn's generous gift and for that bestowed by the Terry Association.

ABLE VIRGINIANS GO TO ST. LOUIS

Exposition Commissioners and Lee and Daniel to Be at Dedication.

A number of prominent Virginians will go to the formal dedication of the grounds and buildings of the St. Louis Exposition, April 30th.

The Virginia Board of Commissioners for the Exposition, consisting of the Commissioners of Agriculture, Mr. G. W. Kolmer; Mr. J. L. Patton, of Newport News, and Colonel A. M. Bowman, of Roanoke, have decided to go. It would not be surprising if a number of others go.

It is considered very likely, in fact, that General Fitzhugh Lee and Senator John W. Daniel will go. Major Daniel had long been known there. He is one of the best known Southern men living, and St. Louis, of all the cities of the West, is the home of former Virginians or children of Virginians, who love the old States and their fathers with sincere and deepest affection.

General Lee is a warm personal friend of President Francis, of the Exposition Company, and for some time was a resident of St. Louis, Mo., first as assistant, will be very busy during the charge of the army post of the Department of Missouri. He is now the president of the Jamestown Exposition Company, and as such is, of course, deeply interested in preparations for exposing at St. Louis on the 80th will be notable. The President is to be there, and former President Cleveland, who is now before the country in a pen picture as the "Maddest Man on Earth," will deliver the address.

The Virginia commissioners held an interesting meeting yesterday afternoon. The work is well under way, and from now on Mr. Murrell, first assistant, will be very busy traveling over the State in the interest of exhibits. It would not be surprising if the tobacco assistant is the next chosen. There are plenty of applicants to select from and good men are to be had. The commissioners are enthusiastic in their work, and a creditable serviceable exhibit is assured.

DRUNKS MUST NOW GO DOWN TO JAIL

Justice John Turns Over a New Leaf—Story of the Police Court.

Justice John turned over a new leaf yesterday and announced that jail was the place for drunks.

Thereupon he sent five of them, old timers, down for ten days, under $100 security.

They were Jack T. Neale, William Blackie, B. W. Kidd, C. J. Rogers and R. C. V. Thomas, all old jags.

Sam Mills got drunk and disorderly on the premises of Lundy E. Hardy, and it cost him $5.

J. S. Smith, alleged to be a deserter from the receiving ship Franklin, will be held to the 14th for information. He was taken in charge by Sergeant Jim Scwell.

William C. George was disorderly on a street car and paid $10 for it.

Edward Beasley was given sixty days for drunkenness, and he seemed to be glad of it.

Adolphus Tyler and Clarence Page, two small boys, threw rocks at another boy, and their parents had to pay $2 each.

DOWN-TOWN SERVICES OF BROTHERHOOD MEN

St. Andrew's Brotherhood are having a very gratifying success with their Holy Week services for busy men, which they are holding every day at 1 P. M. in the large store room at Tenth and Main Streets. With banks on all the other corners and other commercial establishments and professional offices on every hand, it is a little startling to the wayfarer to hear a deep-toned chorus come thrilling out of 100—

Best be the tie that binds Our hearts in Jesus' love! The fellowship of Christian minds Is like to that above.

Yesterday the earnest young rector of St. Paul's, the Rev. James Morris, late missionary to Brazil, led the services, and gave the unusually large congregation of men present a straight-out talk on the words of the Psalmist: "The righteous man shall flourish like a palm tree." From this text Mr. Morris drew a picture of the Christian man standing straight and clean, firmly rooted in conviction, strong in faith, and crowned with the beauty and dignity of the Creator Himself. It was the sort of sermon that men can understand and appreciate, and the pastor was heartily thanked for his effort. The service was completed with prayers and the singing of one of the good old hymns that there's no one but knows.

These half-hour services are coming in for a great deal of praise, and they are greatly enjoyed by their participants. To-day the Rev. John Moncreu, city missionary, will have charge. There are plenty of seats now, and all are welcome.

Stockholders Meet.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Albemarle Paper Manufacturing Company was held at noon yesterday.

No business of general interest was transacted except the election of the same officers and directors for the year ensuing.
